Magnolia Menopause

Your Personalized Protocol

Your Menopause Type:

The Storm

"Everything at once — and you deserve support for all of it."

What's Happening in Your Body

- You're experiencing menopause across multiple fronts simultaneously: sleep disruption, cognitive changes, physical transformations, and emotional volatility are all present and feeding off each other.
- This is common — roughly 30% of women experience this pattern.
- The good news: because the symptoms are interconnected, addressing the root causes (hormonal balance, nervous system regulation, inflammation, and nutrient depletion) creates a cascade of improvement across all areas.
- You don't need to fight on every front separately — you need a comprehensive approach.

The Ancient Herbs That Match Your Type

Shatavari + Ashwagandha

Ayurveda's master pairing

Together, these two adaptogens cover the widest range of menopause symptoms. Shatavari addresses hot flashes, vaginal dryness, mood, and sleep. Ashwagandha addresses cortisol, thyroid, stress resilience, and hormonal equilibrium. Present in both Rest and Glow.

Reishi + Lion's Mane

Chinese Medicine's brain-body duo

Reishi handles the body: sleep, immune modulation, cortisol balance. Lion's Mane handles the brain: memory, focus, neuroplasticity. Together they address the brain-body axis that drives multi-symptom menopause. Present in Rest (reishi) and Mind (lion's mane).

Jujube + Schisandra + Goji

TCM's harmonising trio

Three of TCM's most pleasant-tasting herbs. Jujube calms the mind and improves absorption. Schisandra supports liver detoxification and skin radiance. Goji nourishes kidney yin — the TCM foundation of hormonal health. Sweet, fruity, and gentle.

Marine Collagen + Magnesium

Modern nutritional science

Collagen addresses the structural decline (skin, hair, joints). Magnesium addresses the functional decline (sleep, mood, muscle relaxation, 300+ enzymatic reactions). Together they rebuild what menopause is depleting.

Your Daily Ritual

- Magnolia Glow in the morning (beauty + hormonal balance with your breakfast)
- Magnolia Mind at midday (focus + energy with lunch or afternoon water)
- Magnolia Rest in the evening (sleep + calm, 30–60 minutes before bed).
- Three rituals, three moments of self-care, complete coverage. Start with just one and add the others over the first week.

Dietary Recommendations

- Eat anti-inflammatory foods at every meal: fatty fish, olive oil, turmeric, ginger, leafy greens, berries, and nuts.
- Eliminate or dramatically reduce sugar, processed food, and alcohol for 2 weeks. Multi-symptom menopause is often amplified by inflammation.
- Eat phytoestrogens daily: ground flaxseed, edamame, chickpeas. These provide gentle hormonal support across all symptom categories.
- Front-load protein at breakfast and lunch: eggs, fish, legumes, Greek yogurt. Protein stabilizes blood sugar and supports neurotransmitter production.
- Eat magnesium-rich foods at dinner: dark leafy greens, pumpkin seeds, dark chocolate (70%+). This primes your body for better sleep.

Your 7-Day Starter Plan

"One small step each day"

Day 1: Start with Magnolia Glow in the morning. Just one product first — don't overwhelm yourself. Mix into water or a smoothie.

Day 2: Add Magnolia Rest tonight before bed. Now you have morning and evening rituals bookending your day with support.

Day 3: Add Magnolia Mind tomorrow at midday. Your three daily rituals are now in place: Glow, Mind, Rest.

Day 4: Focus on hydration today — 2.5L minimum. Every herb in your kit works better in a well-hydrated body.

Day 5: Take a 20-minute walk and eat an omega-3 rich dinner. Movement and nutrition multiply the effects of your herb stack.

Day 6: Do a 5-minute breathing exercise (4 counts in, 6 counts out) before your Magnolia Rest tonight. Train your nervous system to downregulate.

Day 7: Journal briefly: which symptoms feel even slightly different? Multi-symptom improvement often starts subtly. Track it so you can see the trajectory over 30 days.
